

Glenvale Church of God seeks Senior Pastor

The Glenvale Church of God, 1970 New Valley Road, Marysville PA is accepting applications for the position of full time Senior Pastor.

The church is located in the valley of Rye Township, Marysville, Perry County, Pennsylvania. Marysville is a rural town located northwest of the Harrisburg area just “over the mountain” from Cumberland County.

The church is a recognized ministry in the small community and has been serving and witnessing to the Marysville/Rye Township area for over 140 years. The congregation is a loving family of believers who worship together Sunday mornings and evenings. Our children and youth programs both meet during Sunday evening worship and are led by strong and committed volunteer leaders.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching and preaching the Word of God clearly and accurately and have a strong and unwavering conviction of the major doctrines and theological teachings of the Bible in alignment with the Churches of God.

Our congregation places value on the following characteristics and skills in their next pastor:

- Loves, follows, and obeys the Lord above all and allows this to flow over to their congregation.
- A leader who guides and supports outreach in the community to help grow the congregation while impacting young families and children in the community.
- Someone who teaches and preaches to strengthen the spiritual health of the congregation.

The candidate seeking ministry here would need to be licensed or ordained, and be approved for ministry by the Eastern Regional Conference of the Churches of God General Conference.

Interested candidates should submit their resume' to Pastor Retta Murray at rmurr25@aol.com by 11/1/24. If you have questions about the position, please feel free to call Pastor Murray at 717-580-9864.
